he universe as we, the Drakkonian people know it, is threatened by the four dragon kings who control the forces of nature: Earth, Water, Air, and Fire. These dragons have stolen the Drakkhen's eight tears, gems that represent all the forces of magic. Each dragon has one son and one daughter for a total of four princes and four princesses. Each prince and princess was bequeathed one of the eight tears.

Your quest is to recover the eight gems. Having done so, the control of the dragons will be broken and control of the universe will be restored to the benevolent and magical Drakkhen.

Your task is complicated by the existence of two distinctly different political parties of the princes and princesses. The League of the Ninth Tear is sympathetic to the Drakkonian cause and its members will assist you in your quest. The Alliance of Fire, however, would like to see the evil reign of the dragons continue. As a result, you may need to slay some of the princes and princesses to complete your quest.

But you must be careful not to attack too hastily! The success of your adventure depends upon the cooperation of those princes and princesses who sympathize with your cause. Sympathetic princes and princesses are of little help if they are dead!

You must approach your quest in a step-by-step manner. It is important that you complete the tasks in the order you are told. The renegade warrior is doomed to failure.

You must exercise great caution! Many of the inhabitants are very strong and do not appreciate your intervention. Beware of entering castles unprepared. Heed the hints that point the way to your destiny.

During your quest, you will encounter inns, shrines, and other ordinary places. You may enter these at any time and they can be valuable sources of information and supplies.

Introduction

A stone tablet will appear in the lower left corner of the screen containing some messages. After displaying these messages, you will see the following screen

Drakkhen allows you to save your game to one of two files, FILE1 and FILE2. Saving your game will permit you to resume your quest at another time from where you left off. When you play Drakkhen for the first time, both FILE1 and FILE2 will show -NEW-, indicating that nothing has been saved to the files. If you had saved a game previously, you could choose to resume it or begin a new game.

The diamond cursor will appear next to FILE1. Since this is your first time playing the game, press the A Button to choose FILE1.

Once you have chosen FILE1, you can choose to START a game with the default set of four characters or to CREATE a custom set of adventurers. Initially, you may find it easier to explore the game using the default set of characters. As you become more experienced, you can experiment with custom characters to find the best combination of adventurers.

Once again, since this is your first time playing the game, choose START by pressing the A Button to begin the game with the default set of characters.

Screen Layout

There are three areas of the screen. The Action Area shows your current view of the world. The four adventurers are visible in the foreground of the Action Area. The Icon Area in the lower right contains the nine pictures that correspond to the available commands. The Message Area provides you with valuable information about your surroundings. The blinking triangle in the lower right corner of the Message Area indicates that there is additional text for you to read. Press the A Button to read the next part of the text.

After reading the introductory text, you will be given the opportunity to read an explanation of the game. Press the A Button to view the game explanation. Press the B Button to skip the explanation and begin the game. The game explanation provides information on the use of the controller, the Command Icons, and other basic information. You can also view this information at any time during the game. Press the B Button to begin the game.

Message Area

Action Area

Icon Area

When you begin the game, the four adventurers will gather together into a group and disappear from the screen, leaving you with a clear view of the Action Area. The Message Area is replaced with two new areas, the Weapon Area and the Character Area

The four rows of the Weapon Area correspond to the four adventurers. A sword indicates that the character is armed with a weapon. A Scepter indicates that the character is armed with magic. The MP number indicates the current Magic Points possessed by the character. When you cast a spell your Magic Points will decrease. Fortunately, your magic points are replenished as time passes and by acquiring special items or spells.

The Character Area gives you summary information for each of the adventurers. The picture of each character lets you quickly see what armor and weapon is being used. The HP number indicates the Health Points for the character. Each character can sustain only so much damage in battle. The greater the number of Health Points, the more damage the character can sustain. The character dies when the number of Health Points reaches zero. Health points are replenished while the character is visible and by acquiring special items or spells.

Character Area

Weapon Area

Icon Area

The oval lamp below the picture of each character is used to indicate the currently selected character. A red lamp indicates that the character is the leader of the party. All other characters will follow the leader. A blue lamp indicates that the character has been selected to move alone.

Moving

There are two modes of movement when the characters are visible in the Action Area and when they are not. When the characters are not visible, you can use the Control Pad to look or move in any direction to explore the outside world.

There are four circumstances under which the characters are visible:

1. You can press the L or R Button to make the characters visible or not.
2. The characters are automatically made visible when you encounter an enemy.
3. The characters are automatically made visible when you come upon a building or castle.
4. The characters are automatically made visible when you use the Icon Area to give commands.

When the characters are visible, you can choose to move the entire group or an individual character. To move the entire group you must first choose a leader. The leader of the group is indicated by a red lamp below the character's picture in the Character Area. You can choose the leader of the group by pressing the Y Button until the red lamp appears under the desired character.

With a selected leader, the Control Pad will move the leader of the group. The other members of the group will follow the movements of the leader.

You can also choose to move just one selected character. By pressing the X Button, the lamp below the character will change from red to blue. The blue lamp indicates that the character has been chosen to move alone. Now, when you use the Control Pad you will be moving only the selected character.

Viewing the Map

You can view a map of Drakkhen Island by pressing either the SELECT or START Buttons

The map shows your current location as well as the location of the eight castles and other buildings. The compass in the upper right of the screen indicates the direction you are currently headed. You will find the map a necessary tool in your quest. When you are done viewing the map, press the A Button to return to the game.

Doing Battle

Drakkhen Island is inhabited by a large number of rather unfriendly creatures. When you encounter one of these creatures, the battle will be waged automatically. However, you may choose to try to avoid battle by repeatedly pressing the L and R Buttons. This will not always work, but it is sometimes wiser to avoid a confrontation. If you are inside a castle, the only way to avoid battle is to exit to another room.

During battle, if your characters inflict damage upon the enemy, a yellow arrow beneath the character's picture in the Character Area will light up. The number that is shown is the amount of damage inflicted upon the enemy. If the number appears without the yellow arrow, your character has suffered that amount of damage.

Your chances for success in battle can be greatly improved by properly arming your characters and providing them with the best possible protective armor. This can be accomplished by giving commands.

Giving Commands

The icons contained in the Icon Area let you give commands to your characters and let you save your game. You can activate the Icon Area by pressing the A Button. A dagger cursor will appear, pointing to one of the command icons. The icon will also have a frame around it. You can choose a command using the Control Pad and pressing the A Button. To cancel, press the B Button.

The Character icon gives you detailed information about each of your adventurers and allows you to control the allocation of weapons and items. Choosing the Character icon will bring up the first screen of character information and pause the game.

This screen shows you the Level (LV), Health Points (HP), and Magic Points (MP) for each character. As characters gain more experience, their Level will increase. The Health Points measure the life of the character. When the Health Points decline to zero, the character dies. The Magic Points indicate the ability of the character to use spells.

	LV	HP	MP
BOB (L)	1	47	1
HERMIE	1	26	30
MEHLIN	1	25	24
HERMIE	1	0	5	92

EXT

In addition, a compass in the upper right corner shows your current direction. Below the compass, your heading is shown in degrees. The eight blinking dots at the bottom of the character screen will be replaced by blue dots as you acquire each of the eight tears.

You can choose to view detailed information on each character by moving the triangle cursor to the desired character and pressing the A Button. You can choose EX.T to return to the game.

By choosing to view detailed information on a character, you will see a screen similar to the following:

Exploring the Island

As you continue your quest, you will come upon a number of additional sights.

The priests of the Anak Shrines are accomplished in the healing arts. To resurrect and heal the members of your party, visit one of the shrines.

The Inn is a good place to get important information from the local inhabitants

There are magical places on the island, called Warp Zones. When you enter a Warp Zone, you are teleported to another part of the island. These Warp Zones can be used to quickly travel from one place to another. Each Warp Zone is connected to a specific destination.

The Flickering Lights is a small strip of enchantment in the center of the island. It is unclear whether any creature can cross its boundaries.

These are just a few of the places that await you. The rest you must discover for yourself!

You may also encounter additional characters during your travels. An old man may appear from time to time. He is a valuable source of information. You will also meet travelling merchants from whom you may buy weapons, armor or other items or sell things that are no longer of use to you.

Advice for the Adventurer

When you start your quest, the members of your party will be inexperienced. Try to gain some battle experience as soon as possible. The castle that first appears before you is that of Prince Hordkhen. Begin your quest by first visiting his castle.

Check the map frequently to verify your location and heading. You should also make sure that the members of your party are appropriately armed and clothed.

Lastly, save your game frequently so that you can resume it at a later time.

If you succeed with this spell, you will disappear from the eyes of the enemy. A costly spell that will help your progress.

CURE

This spell is the only one which can heal infections, illness and poisons. The spell is not very expensive and can be extremely useful.

Your force will be multiplied and your enemy surprised. The spell is little straining.

SHIELD

This spell is of particular use when your protective clothing is weak. The spell costs little and you will find yourself protected from enemy blows.

HEAL MAJOR

The more advanced adventurers may wish to customize the characters. When you start a new game and have chosen FILE1 or FILE2, you will be given the option to START a new game with the default characters or to CREATE a custom set of characters.

Choosing CREATE will bring up the following screen:

First you must choose the gender of the character. Use the Control Pad to make your selection and press the A Button.

Next you must choose the class of character you want. You may choose only one character from each of the four classes. The Fighter/Amazon is physically strong and very effective in battle. The Scout is agile and skilled in magic. The Magician is very accomplished in attack magic, but is physically weak. The Priest/Priestess is particularly skilled in healing magic, but is physically weak.

Enter the name of the character using the Control Pad and pressing the A Button. Move the cursor to END and press the A Button when you are done.

You can now choose to assign the five values in the lower left corner of the screen to the POWER, AGILITY, INTELLIGENCE, KNOWLEDGE, and PHYSIQUE attributes. Only one of the values will be bright green. To assign the highlighted value, move the cursor to the selected attribute and press the A Button. To cancel an assigned value, press the B Button. The HP (Health Points), FORTUNE, and COIN attributes are set automatically.

You should carefully match the attributes to the class of character to ensure their effectiveness.

Repeat these steps for the other three members of your party. When you are done, you can choose to create the party over again (B Button) or to begin the game with your custom characters (A Button).
